Please enjoy yourselves and thank you for attending.

Joseph W. Mollica, Chairman

On behalf of the New Hampshire Food Bank, thank you for joining us for the 13th Annual Distiller's Showcase of Premium Spirits.

We are honored to once again partner with the New Hampshire Liquor Commission and New Hampshire Liquor & Wine Outlets to present this premier event in support of our mission to end hunger across New Hampshire.

Since 2021, this event has raised more than $728,000 to help provide nutritious food and critical resources to those facing hunger throughout the state. Your participation this evening helps ensure that we can continue this important work and expand our impact.

Today, approximately 1 in 9 New Hampshire residents experience food insecurity, including nearly 1 in 6 children. The New Hampshire Food Bank has served as a trusted leader in hunger relief for more than 40 years. Through a network of more than 400 partner agencies, including food pantries, soup kitchens, after-school programs, senior centers, and emergency shelters, we help provide access to food for those who need it most.

In addition to food distribution, we work to address the underlying causes of hunger through programs that build skills, increase access to healthy food, and promote long-term self-sufficiency. These efforts include Culinary Job Training, NH Feeding NH, Cooking Matters®, Granite State Market Match, SNAP Outreach, Mobile Food Pantries, and other initiatives that strengthen individuals and communities.

We extend our sincere appreciation to our sponsors for their generous support, the outstanding local restaurants and vendors participating this evening, and the dedicated volunteers whose time, energy, and commitment make this event possible.

Thank you again for your generosity and support. We hope you enjoy the evening and take pride in knowing that your presence is helping create a hunger-free New Hampshire.

Warmly,

Elsy Cipriani

Philip Brady • Table 154, Head of Operations, Coole Swan

Philip Brady is a commercially minded operator with deep roots in Irish agri-business, manufacturing, premium drinks, and sport. A graduate of University College Dublin in Agricultural Science, he built his career across some of Ireland's leading agri-businesses before founding his own manufacturing company specializing in design and wayfinding systems. After ten successful years in communications, Philip returned to his roots and founded Coole Swan. As an independently owned family business, Coole Swan sees Philip wear many hats across sales, operations, and business development. Philip is also deeply involved in Irish rugby as a trustee of Navan Rugby Club and incoming President of Leinster Rugby, where he chairs the Marketing and Commercial Committee that oversaw a landmark €25 million redevelopment of the RDS Arena. Under his chairmanship, membership has grown by more than 100%. Philip brings together entrepreneurial drive, commercial discipline, and a long-standing commitment to Irish business, community, and sport.

Todd Berg • Table 33, Founder, Owner, Montana Whiskey Co.

Growing up in northwest Montana, Todd learned from his parents and grandparents how hard work and an appreciation for the great outdoors is pretty much what Montana is all about. His resume´ is a diverse one: decorated Marine with two combat tours, licensed commercial pilot, working on and providing oversight of major construction projects in the Pacific Rim and Africa, and finally returning to Montana to do what he always wanted to do: craft fine whiskey and other spirits that were a direct reflection of the state and all that it stands for.

Jon Cleck • Table 156, Owner, Cape Horn

Jon Cleck is an Owner and Chief Operating Officer of Cape Horn Tequila, where he translates company strategy into disciplined execution, supporting day-to-day operations, organizational alignment, and the systems that strengthen distributor, retail, and market-level performance. A former Navy SEAL, federal agent, entrepreneur, and professor, Jon has built a career in complex environments where trust, clear communication, accountability, and sound decisions under pressure are essential. He has led SEAL teams in extreme conditions, served on an FBI Task Force, and experienced firsthand the successes and failures of building companies. Combining operational experience with doctoral research into leadership and human performance, Jon focuses on the people-oriented challenges that determine whether a plan succeeds. At Cape Horn, he works to align people, processes, and partners around a clear mission: grow an exceptional premium tequila brand and advance the company's commitment to the veteran community.

Joe Crandall • Table 156, Owner, Cape Horn

Joe Crandall serves as Executive Chairman of Cape Horn Tequila, guiding the company's strategy, disciplined growth, and long-term partnerships in building an enduring premium spirits brand grounded in accountability, quality, and support for the veteran community. Joe is also CEO of Red Leviathan, a veteran-owned shared-services and operating platform whose portfolio includes Cape Horn Tequila, Cavalry Talent Partners, and Stronghold Leadership. He serves as Executive Chairman of Greencastle Associates Consulting, where as CEO he led the firm's transformation into a premier strategy execution consultancy, and his background includes Fortune 500 leadership, entrepreneurship, and board and advisory work. Joe's professional foundation was forged as a Navy SEAL, and those principles of trust, preparation, and execution under pressure continue to shape his approach. He remains deeply committed to veteran service through board roles with The Patriot Fund, Project Refit, Skeleton Crew Adventures, and Stronghold Leadership, a commitment reflected in Cape Horn's mission of supporting veterans through adventure therapy.

Joe Grasso • Table 139, Founder and President, Mario's Hard Espresso

Mario's Hard Espresso is handcrafted in small batches using the 60-year-old Sicilian recipe of his father, Mario. Mario would make a few bottles a year for family and friends, and today every bottle is made with the same love and care he put into each one of his. Using only four premium natural ingredients, including 100% Arabica dark roast espresso and organic Madagascar vanilla, Mario's is naturally vegan and gluten-free, and is incredibly delicious straight from the bottle, added to a classic cocktail, or as the starting point for something entirely new and delicious.

Taylor Grieger • Table 156, Founder, Owner, Cape Horn

A former U.S. Navy Rescue Swimmer and Door-Gunner with Helicopter Sea Combat Squadron 25, Taylor Grieger served across the Asia-Pacific, from humanitarian relief missions in the Philippines to joint operations with the U.S. Secret Service. After the Navy, he faced the challenges of civilian life and the toll of PTSD. Those experiences inspired him to sail around Cape Horn, one of the most dangerous passages on Earth, to raise awareness for veteran suicide, a voyage that became the acclaimed documentary Hell or High Seas.

Today, Taylor continues that mission through Skeleton Crew Adventures, a nonprofit that takes veterans and first responders sailing around the world to find healing, purpose, and camaraderie. His work has pioneered Adventure Therapy sailing programs across the country. To help fund those expeditions, Taylor founded Cape Horn Tequila, a brand born from a love of the sea, the agave, and the spirit of resilience. Each bottle honors service, adventure, and the strength to keep going, no matter the storm.

Doug Hall • Table 124, CEO & Co-Founder, Dexter

Most recently, Doug has focused his creative energies on recreating an 1800s bourbon company called Brain Brew Whiskey, a company focused on Wood Craft finishing of bourbon to create world class products at a fair price. He's honored to have three of his products in New Hampshire Liquor and Wine Outlets, Dexter Three Wood Bourbon, Paddle Wheel 200 Yr Oak Bourbon and Brain Brew Custom Bourbon Party Kits.

Caleb Landry • Table 59, Co-Founder/Co-Owner, Portland Distilling Co.

The legend of Loch Ness Landry runs deep and rich around these parts. Let me spin you a tale...A hush falls over the Munjoy Hill Tavern, tucked neatly against the hill above Portland harbor, as a grizzled fisherman bursts through the door on a rain-soaked night. "I seen him! I finally seen the monster! I telled ya all, the Loch Ness Landry is real!"

He breached! I saw him, hair as intense as the setting sun, biceps glistening in the late-night of the moon."

"Just reel this one in, Terry, I thinks to myself. Slow and steady. His driftwood-sized quads capsized me in the struggle! I knew my time was nigh, but just before the brisk 'n' briny deep took ol' Terry, he wrapped his great arms around me and swam me to safety. And he left me there, soaked to the bone.

Whatever you believe, we're glad Caleb Landry is on our side. Regardless if he's bellied up at a local bar, slinging drinks behind it, or stilling our hooch, PDC is fortunate enough to have its very own mythical creature.

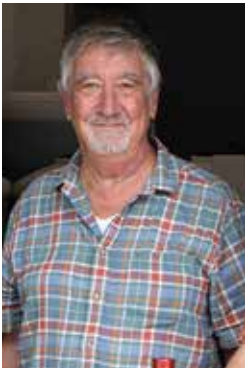

Tara Lindley • Table 105, Director, Sensory QA & New Product Development, High West Distillery

Born and raised in California, Tara has always been fascinated by chemistry. She earned dual Bachelor of Arts degrees in Biochemistry and Spanish from the University of San Diego, followed by a Master's in Environmental Management from the University of San Francisco. After moving to Napa, she began her beverage industry journey in winemaking, where she discovered the balance between science, craft, and community.

In 2016, a lab position at High West caught her eye. Six weeks later, she relocated to Utah, combining her love of chemistry with her passion for the mountains. Starting with lab-scale sensory blends, Tara's role evolved into overseeing sensory evaluations and guiding the development of new and seasonal whiskey blends.

Known for her creative and flavor-forward approach, Tara pushes boundaries by focusing on complexity and innovation. She's committed to crafting unique, expressive blends that delight High West fans and attract new enthusiasts alike.

Outside of work, Tara enjoys making cold process soaps, exploring Utah's rugged mountain landscapes, and, above all, spending time with her baby daughter — her greatest adventure yet.

Ed Metcalfe • Table 68, Founder, Metcalfe

Edward Metcalfe has a history in the beverage industry dating back to 1985 as founder of the North River Winery in Jacksonville, VT. North River Winery was the only winery in the state at the time it was founded and became best known for its hard cider and fruit wines. He eventually sold the winery to focus on family life. Fast-forward 20 years, Ed won the Brattleboro Development Credit Corporation's business plan competition and used the prize money to launch his flagship product, Metcalfe's Vermont Maple Cream Liqueur. He now runs the company along with his two sons, Gus and Dominic, who bring a youthful energy to the company. Together they handle many aspects of the business, from distilling, blending and bottling to marketing, label design and events.

Alberto Partida • Table 114, Master Distiller, Cava de Oro

Cava de Oro is a proud family business founded by Alberto's parents, built on more than 25 years of experience in tequila making. He grew up working in the fields and factory, where his passion for tequila began to take root. Over time, his engineering background and studies as a master tequila maker deepened his understanding of both the art and science behind the craft.

The field is Alberto's favorite part of the process — from selecting and preparing the land to choosing the agave plants and coordinating every step of cultivation. Watching the crops grow healthy and strong brings him great satisfaction, and his mornings spent touring the fields with his pets and coffee are his favorite moments.

High-quality agaves are the foundation of exceptional tequila. Ensuring they meet the family's standards and mature properly is essential, though strategic field planning remains a challenge due to unpredictable natural factors like rain, drought, and pests.

The family takes pride in its slow, careful processes and small-batch production, ensuring every bottle reflects their dedication. Alberto enjoys meeting new people, sharing their story, and exploring all kinds of spirits — each one offering a unique opportunity to learn and appreciate craftsmanship.

His enthusiasm and authenticity soon led to a full-time role, and as one of the company's earliest team members, Lucas has been instrumental in Adictivo's remarkable growth and global recognition.

Before joining the spirits industry, Lucas built a successful career as a Salesforce Administrator and led customer service teams in the public sector. His people-first approach and problem-solving skills naturally carried over into his work with tequila.

Today, Lucas continues to share his passion by educating and inspiring others — one sip at a time. As he says, "When you are born to be a server and work with your heart, the energy is absorbed by the person in front of you. Tequila costs money, but smiles are free."

Born in the heart of Midcoast Maine and a bartender by trade, Couch Sousa can wax prosaic about String Theory, Quantum Mechanics or help with world-building for your next DnD campaign. While he may be colorblind, his palette is as rich and deep as that cherubic grin of his.

After success as a beer blogger and content creator, Natali held brand roles with Anheuser-Busch and Pernod Ricard, leading activations across Chicago and working on the "Beyond Beer" portfolio.

In 2022, she joined ASPIRA as Chicago's Craft Spirits Key Account Manager and now serves as National Tequila Ambassador for Casa Noble and Mi Campo, sharing her enduring love for agave spirits and their stories.

Will Willis • Table 128, Co-Founder, Bully Boy Distillers

Will Willis co-founded Bully Boy Distillers, Boston's first craft distillery, with his brother, Dave, in 2010. The two were inspired by Charlescote Farm, their family's fourth-generation farm in Sherborn, Mass. During Prohibition, the Willis brothers' grandfather housed an enviable collection of artisanal spirits in the farmhouse's basement vault, which also served as an underground speakeasy. Having been raised on Charlescote, Dave and Will are proud to honor their family's tradition of local agriculture, helping to run the farm in addition to managing the distillery.

We also recommend the corn pudding and the Kobe Beef "O Pops." The wine list for both O Steaks & Seafood locations has been hand-selected by Scott and offers more than 24 wines by the glass. Save room for desserts — all created on site. Whether visiting our Lake Opechee or downtown Concord locations, you'll have the choice of private dining, seating near our talented bartenders or adding a view with a meal on the patio or at the chef's tables where you can watch our staff prepare your meal.
